A Brief History of the Society.

The Phi Beta Kappa Society was organized at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia, on December 5, 1776. The founder and first president was John Heath, with whom were associated Thomas Smith, Richard Booker, Armisted Smith, and John Jones. It was a secret literary and fraternal organization, having "Friendship for its basis, Benevolence and Literature for its pillars." At the meetings there were debates, essays, and declamations. The regulations were very strict. In the first five years fifty members were received. In 1781, owing to the fortunes of war, the Society became inactive and so continued until 1849, when William Short, the last president in 1781, presided at its resurrection. In 1861 the chapter was again broken up by the war, but it was revived in 1895.

Of the original fifty members one was Elisha Parmele, of the Harvard class of 1779, who had gone south apparently for his health. On December 4, 1779, permission was granted him to establish the Society at Harvard and Yale, to be known as the Alphas of Massachusetts Bay and Connecticut respectively. In 1787 the two Northern Alphas united in voting a charter to Dartmouth; and thirty years later (May 1, 1817) the fifth chapter was organized at Union College. Other charters were granted by the various Alphas, at considerable intervals, to Bowdoin, Brown, Trinity, Wesleyan, Western Reserve, Vermont, Alabama (1851, extinct in 1860), Amherst, Kenyon, New York, Marietta, Williams, the College of the City of New York, Middlebury, Rutgers, Columbia, Hamilton, Hobart, Colgate, and Cornell. The ideals and degrees of literary activity varied among the different chapters. The Dartmouth chapter, for example, in 1852 became a graduate society; at Yale, on the other hand, emphasis has been placed on the undergraduate side of the society. At the time of the anti-Masonic craze in 1831, the Harvard chapter, under the influence of President John Quincy Adams, Judge Story, and others, became non-secret, and the other chapters were induced to follow its example.

In 1881 the Harvard chapter, in celebrating its centennial anniversary, led a movement to form a national organization. At Saratoga Springs in September, 1882, a constitution was adopted, to become binding when ratified by fourteen chapters. The first National Council was held in September, 1883, and a council has been held once in three years ever since. In these twenty-nine years the number of active chapters has grown from twenty-four to seventy-seven and the number of living members to something like twenty thousand.

The original badge was a square silver medal bearing on one side the letters S. P., which stood for Societas Philosophiae, the original name of the Society, and on the other side three stars, the letters Phi Beta Kappa, and a hand pointing upward. In the standard gold key the Society has returned to the original three stars.

The Society now publishes a quarterly magazine, The Key, which contains matter of interest to all members. The subscription price is one dollar for three years.

II.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED CHAPTERS.

(As amended by the National Council, 1892.)

COMPOSITION OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL.

I. The National Council of the Phi Beta Kappa Society shall consist of the Senators hereinafter spoken of, and of delegates from the several Chapters of the Society. Each Chapter shall be entitled to send three delegates, who shall be graduates of at least five years' standing and members of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, but not necessarily of the Chapter by which they are chosen.

THE SENATE.

II. The Senate shall originally consist of twenty Senators, chosen by the delegates at the first session of the National Council, from the Society at large. These shall be divided into two classes, whose terms of office shall expire at the adjournment of alternate regular sessions of the National Council. At every subsequent regular session the places of the outgoing class shall be filled by election as follows: On the day preceding the first day of each regular session of the National Council, the Senate shall meet, and shall nominate fifteen candidates in addition to the members of the outgoing class for the ten vacant seats, and also two candidates for the unexpired term of each Senator who may have died or resigned since the last regular session. Other persons not nominated by the Senate may be presented as candidates at the time of the election. Of every ten members whose term of office shall expire, one may be elected by the Council Senator for life. In every election of Senators a majority of the votes cast shall be required to elect, and in such elections the outgoing Senators shall have no vote. The Senate may fill vacancies in its own body till the next meeting of the National Council.

OFFICERS OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL.

III. The officers of the National Council shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, and a Treasurer, and such others as may be found necessary from time to time. The President shall be chosen from among the Senators.

SESSIONS AND FUNCTIONS OF THE COUNCIL.

IV. The National Council shall meet every third year at such place and time as shall have been determined by the officers of the United Chapters, and shall proceed at once to the election first of its officers and next of the Senators. The National Council shall make such rules as may be found necessary for the carrying out of any provision of this Constitution.
V. During the sessions of the National Council the Senate shall have no separate existence, but its members shall take their places with the delegates as members of the National Council, voting with the delegates, as well upon all other matters as upon the election of officers and Senators, except as provided in Article II. When the National Council is not in session the Senate shall constitute an independent body, charged with the duty of representing the Phi Beta Kappa Society and speaking in its name, and exercising, in addition, the functions of a permanent Executive Committee of the National Council. It shall hold its meetings at such times and places as it shall determine, being first called together by that Senator who, at the original election of the Senate, shall have been elected by the largest number of votes. It shall recommend candidates for election as Senators. It shall also have power to call an extra session of the National Council. It shall furthermore prepare and recommend to the consideration of the National Council such matters as it may deem proper. It shall transmit its lists of candidates and of matters recommended for discussion, by the hands of the Secretary, to the presiding officer of the National Council, immediately upon its organization being completed. It shall also transmit, in the same manner, to the National Council, a report of its doings between the sessions of the Council. Nothing herein shall be so construed as to derogate from the right of the National Council to appoint Committees to sit between sessions, independently of the Senate, and to report at the next session.

NEW CHARTERS.

VI. Applications for charters shall, in all cases, be made to the Senate, at least six months before the regular session of the National Council; the Senate shall at once notify all the chapters of such applications, and such applications shall be reported to the National Council with the recommendation of the Senate at the next meeting of the Council, and shall be passed upon by the Council, which shall have exclusive power to grant charters. But no charter shall be issued without the consent of delegations representing a majority of the chapters.

BY-LAWS AND RULES OF ORDER.

VII. The National Council at any of its sessions, and the Senate at any time, may respectively make such By-Laws and Rules of Order as may be thought expedient for their use, provided the same be not inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Constitution. A quorum of the National Council shall consist of delegates from a majority of the chapters and not fewer than three Senators; the Senate shall determine the number which shall constitute its quorum. [The present number is five.]

RIGHTS OF CHAPTERS.

VIII. Nothing contained in this Constitution shall be construed as empowering the Senate or the National Council to restrict or abridge the rights or privileges now exercised by existing Chapters, except as expressly provided herein.
AMENDMENTS TO THIS CONSTITUTION.

IX. No change shall be made in this Constitution unless the same shall have been proposed at the session of the National Council next preceding the session at which the proposed change is voted for; and no vote shall be had upon any such proposed change except at a stated hour previously ordered by the meeting,—and no amendment shall be made without the concurrence of the delegations of two-thirds of the Chapters represented in the Council.

ADOPTION OF THE CONSTITUTION.

X. This Constitution shall take effect when ratified by fourteen Chapters. [Sixteen chapters ratified it before July, 1883.]

III.

THE BY-LAWS OF THE UNITED CHAPTERS.

ELECTIONS AND OFFICERS.

I. All elections shall be by ballot. The President shall preside over the meetings of the Council. In his absence the Vice-President shall perform his duties. When both are absent a president pro tempore shall be chosen viva voce. The Secretary shall keep the records of the Council, conduct its correspondence, and send to the Senate and to each chapter a certified report of the proceedings of each session. The Treasurer shall collect and disburse all funds of the Council, and report at each session thereof. [At the Council of 1892, the treasurer requested that the financial report be submitted to an auditor appointed by the president after its presentation.]

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

VOTING.

III. In all cases not otherwise provided for by the Constitution each Senator and delegate present shall be entitled to cast one vote. [In establishing new chapters the Constitution requires a vote by delegations, each delegation having one vote.]

ASSESSMENTS.

IV. Each chapter shall pay to the Treasurer a triennial assessment of ten dollars. [The Council of 1883 voted that the first assessment should be due in 1884. The successive assessments have become due at intervals of three years from that time, 1887, 1890, 1893, 1896, and so on.]
THETA OF NEW YORK

PROCEDURE.

V. The proceedings of the Council, in all cases not provided for in the Constitution, or the By-Laws, shall conform to the rules laid down in Cushing's Manual.

ENDORSEMENTS OF APPLICATIONS FOR ChARTERS.

VI. All applications for future charters shall have the endorsement of at least five existing chapters prior to presentation to the Senate. No charter shall be issued until those applying for the same have paid to the Treasurer of the National Council fifty dollars as a franchise fee.

AMENDMENTS.

VII. These By-Laws, or any of them, may be suspended, altered, or amended at any meeting of the Council by a two-thirds vote of the members of the Council present and voting.

HISTORY OF THE THETA OF NEW YORK.

On March 5, 1880, a petition was drawn up to be sent to the Union chapter, the Alpha of New York, asking for a charter of Phi Beta Kappa for Cornell. It was signed by President White and Professors Flagg (Greek), Oliver (mathematics), Peck (Latin), Perkins (Latin and Greek), Shackford (rhetoric and general literature), Wait (mathematics), and H. S. White (German). On March 15, 1880, President Potter of Union College acknowledged the receipt of the petition and added that it would be "cordially furthered." On June 12 Professor H. S. White wrote to the president of the Union chapter asking for information regarding the application. No answer having been received up to May 11, 1881, it was then decided to inform the Union chapter that in default of action by them the Cornell petitioners were ready to apply to Harvard. On June 1, 1881, however, the petitioners were informed that Union had granted the petition in 1880, but that through some oversight the Cornellians had not received the information. In the spring of 1882 the matter was again taken up, and the charter, dated May 20, 1882, was transmitted to Ithaca by mail. Cornell was thus the last chapter established before the formation of the United Chapters. It is the twenty-fourth in the order of establishment. The traditional date of organization is May 28, 1882. The following were then added to the list of original members: Professors Hale (Latin), Tuttle (international law), and M. C. Tyler (American history and literature).

The object of the Society was declared in the original constitution to be "the promotion of literature and friendly intercourse among scholars." Its motto was "to indicate that Philosophy (which is understood to indicate Religion as well as Ethics) is worthy of cultivation as the guide of life." There were to be graduate, undergraduate, and honorary members. No injunction of secrecy was to be imposed. Both men and women were eligible for membership; Cornell was thus the second chapter to admit women. High scholarship, with a generally good character, was the basis of election. Only Juniors and Seniors in whose courses a knowledge of Latin was required were eligible for membership. Not more than ten undergraduates could be chosen from one class; not more than five of these could be Juniors. In 1888 the maximum number of students was raised from ten to twelve. In 1900, in consequence of the introduction of the elective system, all undergraduates were made eligible whose work had been done for the most part in languages, history, political science, and philosophy (including education); in 1906 mathematics was added to this list. The number that could be elected was in 1900 made one-fifth of all those eligible, of whom one-fifteenth could be Juniors; in 1906 the maximum number of Juniors was made one-tenth. In the same year graduate students of the humanities were also declared eligible for membership.

The first election of undergraduates was held on April 30 and May 10, 1883. In 1884-5 sixty-five members were elected from the classes of
THETA OF NEW YORK

1869-82. Five members have also been elected from the Faculty: Professors Goldwin Smith (1880), Crane (1888), Schurman (1888), J. M. Hart (1891), and McMahon (1891).

The following are the present statistics of the Cornell Chapter:

- Elected by the Chapter: 545
- Members of other chapters who have at any time been members of the Theta of New York: 218

- Total: 763
- Deceased: 38
- Resident at present in Ithaca: 149

VIII.

THE CHAPTER CONSTITUTION.

(Substantially as recommended by the National Council, 1889.)

I. This Society is one of the co-ordinate branches of the body known as THE UNITED CHAPTERS OF THE PHI BETA KAPPA, and shall be called the Theta Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society in the State of New York.

II. The object of the Phi Beta Kappa Society is the promotion of scholarship and friendship among students and graduates of American colleges.

The members of the Chapter shall be elected primarily from the best scholars of the graduating classes of the college, secondly from those graduates of any college whose post-graduate work of this university entitles them to such honor, and lastly from any persons distinguished in letters, science, or education; provided, however, that the selection from each graduating class shall not exceed one-fourth of the number graduated. But the Chapter may make further limitations or restrictions. [See the By-Laws, II, III.]

IV. In addition to scholarship, good moral character shall be a qualification of membership, and any member who is found to have lost this qualification may be expelled from the Society by a four-fifths vote of the members present at a regular annual meeting of the Society.

V. This Chapter shall send a delegation to represent it at each National Council of the United Chapters, shall contribute its equal part to the financial support of the United Chapters, and shall conform to the Constitution of the United Chapters and all the lawful requirements of the National Council.

VI. This Chapter shall, by the enactment of suitable by-laws, provide for its election of officers, the initiation of members, the conduct of its meetings, and for such other matters as it may deem wise so to regulate.

IX.

THE CHAPTER BY-LAWS.

(As amended to May, 1912.)

AIMS OF THE CHAPTER.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP.

II. Membership in this Chapter may be conferred upon persons of high character and good general scholarship who belong to any of the four following groups: (1) undergraduates in the College of Arts and Sciences of Cornell University the major part of whose work shall have been devoted to the study of the languages, philosophy, education, history, political science, and pure mathematics, and who shall have given promise of ability to do independent work in any of these subjects; (2) resident graduate students of any of these subjects who shall have made actual contributions to the advancement of knowledge or thought; (3) graduates of Cornell University of not less than five years' standing who shall have made valuable contributions to scholarship in the same departments of study; (4) professors and instructors in the University who shall have rendered service in the advancement of liberal scholarship.

ELECTIONS TO MEMBERSHIP.

III. The election of new members shall rest with those members who are connected with the Faculty, but the electors may invite nominations or information from others. The regular elections of undergraduate members shall be held annually in February. All elections shall be by ballot, and three-fourths of the votes cast shall be necessary and sufficient for a choice.

In the election of undergraduates, not more than one-fifth of those who satisfy the prescribed condition regarding the distribution of their work may be chosen in any one class, and in the Junior year not more than one-tenth. [See Art. II, 1.]

OFFICERS AND EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

IV. The officers of the Chapter shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Registrar; and they shall be chosen annually by ballot. These five officers, with two other members to be elected by the Chapter, shall constitute the Executive Committee, to whom the general management of the Chapter shall be committed.

BUSINESS MEETINGS.

V. There shall be a regular meeting in October of each year, for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may be necessary. Special meetings may be called at any time by the President or the Executive Committee. [As to meetings for the election of members, see Article III.]

LITERARY MEETINGS.

VI. During each year there shall be at least three meetings the main purpose of which shall be the promotion of the general aims of the Society, including the discussion of literary, political, or social questions; and it shall be the duty of the Executive Committee to arrange a suitable program. At any of these meetings new members may be initiated into the Chapter, and any necessary business may be transacted.

---

1 It is proposed, by an amendment to be voted on in the fall, to change this to March.
